Speaker: Jackson, Juleen – Juleen is the mother of seven children, two of whom were lost in infancy. Juleen has actively served her community everywhere she's lived. She's served as Vice President for the DC Chapter of American Mothers, the President of the United Women's Forum, supporting her husband, Al's service in the Utah State Senate, and her son, Frank's path to the NBA. Juleen is a Certified Instructor for the Thomas Jefferson Center of Constitutional Studies and serves as Senior Instructor & Advisor, Cottage Meetings for the organization, Moms for America. Juleen is an inspiring speaker and teacher, bringing the Constitution and principles of liberty to life in the homes and hearts to thousands of mothers and grandmothers across the nation to strengthen families and inspire civic action. Juleen and her family live in the Washington D.C. metro area and love being surrounded by the beauty and history of our nation's capital.
