Speaker: Bobbie Patray has been a part of the fight for traditional family values for more than 50 years and across three states – Kentucky, Alabama, and Tennessee.

She started her tenure as the President of the Tennessee Eagle Forum in August 1986 and has led the efforts for that organization ever since. An ever-present and always welcome face at the state capital in Nashville, Bobbie has worked tirelessly to build great relationships with conservative leaders across the wide state of Tennessee for the purpose of protecting and promoting families.
